2 Killed, 12 Hurt In Area Crashes

Drivers Die in Head-on Crash on Route Three; 23 Weekend Accidents

Two men were killed and 12 other persons were injured in a total of 23 traffic accidents in the Quad-City area during the weekend.

Deaths of two drivers in one crash brought to 34 the total number of traffic fatalities in the Quad-City area so far this year, compared to 22 at the same time a year ago.

Two drivers were killed in a head-on auto collision at 4 a.m. Friday on Route 3 just north of the Granite City animal shelter.

They were identified by state police as Larry J. Bopp, 21, of Alton, and Stanley J. Monchicki, 50, of Ferguson, Mo. They were alone in their autos.

State police said the southbound 1961 auto driven by Bopp crossed the center line of the highway and struck the northbound 1965 auto driven by Monchicki which caught fire.

The Granite City fire department was called to the scene to extinguish the blazing auto and washed gasoline off of the pavement. Traffic was blocked on Missouri avenue at West 25th street by county sheriff's deputies and at the A. O. Smith Corp. plant by Granite City police.

Monchicki, who was employed by American Steel Industries

Nowicki was charged with a stop sign violation and was summoned for a hearing by Nov. 30.

Hubert White, 18, of 2926 Morgan avenue, operator of a motorcycle, and Gregory Dickerson, 11, Arnold, Mo., who was riding on the motorcycle with White, were injured at 4:10 p.m. Sunday in a collision with an auto at

Pistol Taken in Holdup Here Used To Wound Police

A Nov. 10 armed robbery at the Venice Liquor Store, 138 Broadway, may have been solved as a result of a fatal St. Louis gun-fight Thursday night in which a gun stolen from the liquor store was used to wound two police men.

Venice officers are receiving custody today of a suspect in the robbery, Dolly Regina Gage, St. Louis, for whom a warrant was issued Friday by the Madison county state's attorney's office.

Also named in a warrant here was Louis Edward Brown, 21, St. Louis, whom East St. Louis police may retain in connection with a $500 jewelry holdup and beating Thursday afternoon at the Clairway tavern, East St. Louis.

A man and a woman staged the local daylight robbery, obtaining a wristwatch, at least $25 in cash and the gun after beating three victims into unconsciousness.

Station Robbery Suspect

Another woman arrested for questioning in St. Louis after the gun duel is sought for questioning by the Madison county sheriff's office in connection with a $1000 robbery and beating at the Madison Motor service station on Route 203 Oct. 20.

Louis Brown, Troy Brown, James Johnson, 21, and the late Leon Damsberry allegedly robbed the East St. Louis tavern where two shots were fired, Thursday, Troy Brown, 20, St. Louis, Damsberry, 22, East St. Louis, and three juvenile girls were found in a car stopped at 20th and State streets, Nov. 10, and David Lovelace, 29, after a three-block chase in northwest St. Louis. They had spotted it as a stolen auto.

The patrolmen asked the men to get out and place their hands on top of the auto. After handcuffs were placed on the left wrist of Troy Brown, Damsberry drew a 38-caliber pistol and began shooting, striking both patrolmen in the face. The two wounded officers fell but returned the fire and killed Damsberry. Troy Brown was taken into custody later at a hospital, where he is being treated by St. Louis police.

Patrolman Lovelace is in serious condition and has lost the sight of his left eye.

3 Homes Entered During Weekend

7 Autos Stolen, Food Store, Taverns Looted In 20 Crimes in Area

Twenty burglary and theft cases reported to Quad-City area authorities since Thursday included three break-ins at homes and the theft of seven autos. Two taverns and a grocery store were burglarized.

Thomas Brown, 2113a Delmar avenue, reported that a portable color television set valued at $800, a clock radio, a transistor radio, a portable hi-fidelity record player, an electric razor and a pair of safety shoes were stolen in a burglary of his three-room apartment after 8 p.m., Friday.

The rooms were ransacked. There was no sign of forced entry, but the rear door was found open.

Cash and personal checks totaling $213, a $45 tape recorder and a $25 Christmas fund check were taken by a burglar Saturday evening at the home of Walter Hertz, 2609 East 28th street. The intruder, who ransacked the entire house, entered through an unlocked front door.

A burglar broke the lock on a kitchen door to enter the home of Mrs. Shirley Elders, 1723 Elizabeth street, Madison, Sunday night and stole a 12-inch portable television set, a combination shotgun and rifle and a box containing private papers and 20 silver dollars.

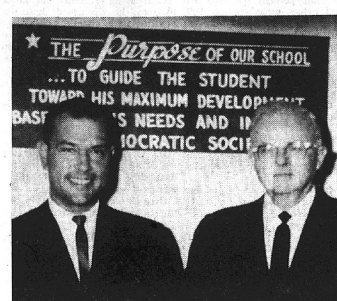

Madison police reported force was used to break the lock on doors into other rooms of the house, which was thoroughly ransacked. Mrs. Elders told officers the entry occurred between 5:30 and 9:30 p.m.

$101 Cash Stolen

Minnie's Teepee Tavern, 1112 State street, Madison, was burglarized early yesterday and $101 in cash was taken from a liquor closet.

Mrs. Minnie Weeks, operator, told Madison police the theft occurred between 4 a.m. and 5 a.m., when the tavern closed, and 8 a.m., when it reopened.

County Board to Consider Mental Health Program

The Madison county board of supervisors will hold its monthly meeting at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the courthouse at Edwardsville.

Deferred from the agenda until a later meeting is the county's proposed landfill ordinance. Changes in requirements are being considered by the sanitation committee following two hearings in which objectors filed complaints. Criticized were a $10,000 performance bond which operators called too costly, a proposed $300 annual permit fee, and a $10 license fee for refuse trucks.

A seven-member mental health board to administer the new mental health tax levy for the county may be appointed during Wednesday's meeting. It has been suggested that the board include a representative of the medical society, a psychologist and a clergyman.

The county juvenile detention home committee headed by William Webb, Granite City assistant administrator, is to meet Nov. 30 to initiate plans for construction of a detention home. Voters recently approved a tax levy of 1.67 cents per $100 assessed valuation to support the project.

A temporary three-way division of authority—Davis for education, Anderson for business and Earl Lee for personnel—had been set up by the board Nov. 14 pending receipt of "further information." The three met privately with the board Thursday night.

Screening Committee

Davis and School Treasurer Ronald Dillard conferred yesterday in Chicago with Robert Cole, ASD executive secretary, during the annual state school board meeting there. The discussion dealt with creation of a three-member screening committee which will recommend the most qualified applicants to the board.

Formerly assistant to the superintendent, Davis has served in the Granite City school administrative office for a year and a half and has been an educator 14 years.

A native of Springfield, Mo., he holds a bachelor degree from Southwest Missouri State College, Springfield, and a master degree in school administration from the University of Missouri. He taught history at Chadwick and Salem, Mo., for a total of five years, served as an elementary school principal at Mexico, Mo., two years and was principal of Central

B. J. Davis, Anderson Promoted By Board

Named to Acting Supl., Comptroller Positions For Interim Period

Bob J. Davis, 35, of Old Alton, Mitchell, was named acting superintendent of schools and Victor G. Anderson, 51, of 2325 St. Bernard avenue was named acting comptroller of the Granite City school district Thursday night.

Both administrators will report directly to the school board. Anderson having charge in the field of business and finance and Davis in other matters.

Board members indicated the arrangement will continue until the appointment of a successor to Supt. Russell D. Johnson, who died Nov. 15. The Illinois Association of School Boards is being asked to aid the school district in the search for superintendent applicants.

A temporary three-way division of authority—Davis for education, Anderson for business and Earl Lee for personnel—had been set up by the board Nov. 14 pending receipt of "further information." The three met privately with the board Thursday night.

Award Contract For Venice Boat Launching Ramp

An agreement under which the Illinois State Department of Conservation will provide up to $50,713 for construction of a boat dock and launching ramp on the riverfront at Venice was approved Friday night by the Venice city council.

The agreement provides that the city, which furnished the site just south of the Union Electric plant, will provide liability insurance coverage and maintain the facilities once they are constructed. The agreement now is to be signed by the conservation department.

Following approval of the agreement, council members awarded a contract for the boat dock construction to the A. H. Seebold Co. of Granite City, low bidder of the Union Electric plant, for $36,643. The other bid was by G. H. Sternberg & Co. in the amount of $40,000.

The agreement between the State Department of Conservation and the city of Venice provides for the construction of the amount of the contract and the $50,713 allowed by the state be used for "further improvement" of the area in which the boat ramp will be available to public use.

The ramp has been under discussion for nearly two years as a project that would make the Venice riverfront attractive as a recreational area. A parking lot also will be constructed. The boat ramp will be 200 feet long, with ramps on each side and a walkway down the middle.

Await Agreement Signing

There was no indication as to when the work will be undertaken pending the signing of the agreement by the state.

In other business, the council approved payment of $28,245 to the Alberici Contracting Co. of St. Louis as partial payment of repairing bridge work on the Venice Bridge, and approved payment of $664 to Hardesty & Sonover, bridge engineers, for services on the bridge rail repair job now underway. The payments will be made out of (Continued on Page 7, Col. 8.)

$195,000 Verdict In Injury Case

A $195,000 judgment was set by a jury here early Saturday morning for Marcello Schaeffer, Caseyville, a railroad worker who was injured June 14, 1964, while working at the Nikee Falls Railroad yards in Madison. It was a record total for the Granite City division of the circuit court and the second highest ever in the circuit.

Trial of the case began last Tuesday and the jury deliberated four and a half hours Friday evening. Associate Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman presided and Attorney Morris B. Chapman represented Schaeffer.

In suing the Norfolk & Western Railroad, present owners of the yard, Schaeffer alleged he suffered severe back injuries due to an effect on the nervous system, including a leg condition that requires him to wear a brace.

He was hurt on a "piggy-back" loading ramp while lifting a bridge over which trucks drove to unload ties from freight cars. Inadequate help and equipment were alleged.

Venice Crossing Underpass Plan To be Delayed

What's Wrong With Drinking Water?—Phenol

The objectionable taste of drinking water in the Quad-City area during the weekend was caused by an apparently large quantity of phenol, a chemical byproduct of oil processing, that entered the Mississippi River in the vicinity of Wood River, it was learned today.

Officials of the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. said they are attempting to determine the source of the chemical, which is believed to have leaked into the river from a refinery holding pond.

The quantity of phenol discharged into the river apparently was extensive, according to J. G. Carls, district manager of the water company.

Granite City Mayor Donald Farney and area police were flooded with calls, most of them complaints.

Phenol Chlorine Combined

The objectionable taste became noticeable Saturday evening and became worse Sunday. Carls said phenol is a chemical whose taste is worsened when mixed with chlorine. Extra chlorine was necessary to purify the water.

The chemical is one of the basic components for disinfecting when used in diluted form. It is poisonous in concentrated form, but is harmless in the present situation, Carls said.

Because of the large extent of dilution, no health problem is presented, it was noted.

"There is absolutely nothing we can do about it until the distasteful water that has filled the distribution system runs out of the system," Carls said. "The flow of polluted water in the river is the latest factor in the long ago." Carls explained, "but an objectionable taste probably will be noticed until the water is replaced out of the system and replaced with fresh water."

Unified Fund Total Now 97.2% of Goal

The United Fund total edged up slightly today to a new total of $306,631, or $10,349 short of the $317,000 goal for the 1967 year. The United Fund is 97.2% of the goal.

UF campaign leaders are to meet this afternoon in the office of Carl Mathias, drive chairman, to map further plans.

Design Being Changed By Railroads; City May Spend Funds Elsewhere

Three major rail lines that would operate trains over the proposed Broadway underpass at Venice have ignored Illinois Commerce Commission orders for building the structure, Venice Mayor John E. Lee charged Friday night.

As a result, he told the Venice-city council in its regular meeting, construction of the underpass has been delayed indefinitely, projected building costs continue to rise and the city of Venice is forced to sit back with $80,000 tied up in an escrow fund.

The mayor said the GM&O, the New York Central and the Chicago & Western railroads have failed to provide data to the Illinois Division of Highways to permit preparation of plans and specifications in accordance with ICC-specified deadlines, and also have informed the highway department they are changing original plans for track arrangements on the underpass structure.

May Seek Release

In a surprise announcement the mayor told the council that this leaves us with no other alternative than to request the Illinois Commerce Commission to enforce its order, and that, failing to do so, the commerce commission release the city of Venice from the ICC order (to build the underpass) so that we can use our underpass money for other pressing purposes."

Mayor Lee based his statement on a joint report to the city by City Attorney Harry E. Hartman and City Consulting Engineer Edward J. Jones, who shepherded Morgan & Schwaab engineering firm who met in Springfield with ICC representatives Nov. 8 to inform the commerce commission that all plans and specifications for which the city is responsible will be completed by the end of next month.

Hartman and Juneau learned at that time, the mayor related, that the Illinois highway division, in a letter to the ICC dated Nov. 3, reported that its plans and specifications for the underpass structure "necessarily will be delayed by reason of requests made by the GM&O, New York Central and Norfolk & Western railroads for changes in the plans for the underpass structure until late in 1967 year."

The proposed changes include: 1. Laying of an additional track by the Norfolk & Western railroad which will require enlarging the structure on the park side of the railroad tracks.

2. Paving of ditches on both sides of the tracks of the New York Central railroad which will require raising of the railroad tracks and the roadbed approach to the structure.

3. Provision for walkways on both sides of the GM&O railroad tracks, which will require enlarging the structure on the west side of the tracks.

City Not Notified

As of Nov. 10, the two officials reported, no notice of these proposed changes had been given the city of Venice, and Illinois (Continued on Page 14, Col. 1.)

Probation Hearing in Murder Case Resumes

A lengthy probation hearing for Walter Rowland, 27, of 1729 Edison avenue, who was indicted on a murder charge, was resumed today in the criminal division of circuit court before Judge James O. Monroe.

Judge Monroe, at the start of the hearing Friday, accepted a plea by Rowland to a charge reduced to voluntary manslaughter.

Rowland was charged in the fatal shooting last Feb. 20 of Jerry Thompson, 23, of Union, Ky., who had just been discharged from military service. At one time he was assigned to the Granite City Army Depot.

Evidence introduced in mitigation indicated that the crime was aggravated by domestic difficulties.

'Inequities' May Boost Property Values

Application of an increased multiplying factor against Madison county's 1967 property assessment appears certain unless township assessors adjust inequities now existing in assessment ratios, according to Eugene Berghoff, head of the Property Tax Division of the Illinois Department of Revenue, Springfield.

Berghoff's warning came as township assessors from Madison and other Central Illinois counties gathered at Belleville this morning for an all-day meeting in which new assessing standards and policies were to be explained. Berghoff and other agents of the Illinois Department of Revenue are to outline in detail data contained in a new assessing manual distributed to assessors throughout the state.

Any new multiplying factors will be set by the state revenue department on the basis of new quadrennial property assessments made in 1967, Berghoff said. Work on the new assessment is to be started by township assessors Jan. 1.

Berghoff pointed out that assessed values must average 90% of appraised value or Madison county will be in line for a multiplying factor higher than the figure of 1.0 it has enjoyed in recent years. The state revenue department has the arbitrary right to set a factor that is used to multiply a county's property assessments to bring it up to what the state department considers an appropriate assessment ratio.

Would Sweet Taxes

Since most taxing agencies have tax rates now at their maximum extension, but producing insufficient money, these rates would be applied against any further increases in assessments and would mean a substantial increase in tax bills.

Berghoff said that checks of real estate sales made by state agents show there is a definite trend toward lower assessments in Madison county. Assessors in many townships are failing to assess property at the required 90% of appraised value.

Different standards and varying policies applied by assessors of the different township result in

Had Highest Factor

Madison county has had a 1.0 multiplier since 1957. In 1957, the multiplier for Madison county was 7.1428, the highest in the state at that time. The excessive reduction was brought about by an upgrading of assessments during the 1958 tax year.

"I believe a higher multiplier for Madison county can be averted if the assessors follow the new manual the state has issued," Berghoff said. "It is one of the finest works of valuation engineering possible. It sets definite standards and guidelines for fixing assessments and I don't see how anyone could go far wrong in setting a proper assessment if they adhere to these codes."

Berghoff said state revenue department agents already have conducted assessors' meetings for explanation of the new manual at Dekalb and Moline, Ill.

Following today's meeting in Belleville, a similar session is scheduled in Marion Tuesday, in Jacksonville next Monday, Nov. 28, and in Decatur on Tuesday, Nov. 29.

Township Subcommittee To Contact Engineers

In a preliminary step to map a new sewer program for Nameo Township, the Citizens Sewer Committee Thursday night formed a subcommittee to contact engineering firms representatives for review and updating of a plan previously defeated by voters.

Chairman Michael Ropac appointed Robert Flinn of Precinct Five, Harold Schellenger of Precinct One and Clarence Cox of Precinct Three to serve on the subcommittee.

At Thursday's meeting, Nick Vassileff, township attorney, was asked to investigate ways that a sewer program could be financed. Vassileff volunteered his services to the committee for a preliminary legal problems.

Rev. Gus Falter, pastor of the Pontoon Baptist Church, was appointed parliamentarian for future meetings by Ropac.

Discussion of possible funding available to the township was followed by a suggestion from Harry Briggs, township supervisor, that the committee inquire with the Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, to attend the next meeting to discuss funding programs.

Those who attended the meeting included Mrs. Betty Cook, Precinct Seven, Mrs. Ruth Buer, Precinct Seven and acting secretary for the committee, Lindsay Kreher, Pontoon Beach, William Ellis, Precinct Four, Clayton Newton, Precinct Two, Donald Grand, Precinct Five, and John Karlechick, township clerk.

The next scheduled meeting of the committee is Thursday, Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the Nameo town hall.

Vote Still Incomplete On Revenue, Bank Acts

Official declaration of voting results on the two proposed amendments to the Illinois Constitution submitted in the Nov. 8 election is being withheld until the official canvass by the Secretary of State's office, it was reported Friday.

The Revenue Article and the proposition for succession to office by county treasurers and sheriffs apparently were defeated, according to the latest figures received by the Chicago Board of Election Commissioners.

Returns from a majority of Chicago precincts indicated the amendments lost there. Latest return from downstate also indicated the propositions lost, it was reported.

No figures were reported available Friday for voting on the Banking Amendment. Officials said many precincts throughout the state did not report tabulations on the amendments and the Banking Act proposal and final outcome will not be announced until the canvass is completed.

Final returns may not be expected until early next month, it was said.

Juvenile 'Halfway Houses' Studied by Ill. Commission

Assigning borderline juvenile delinquents to institutions far from their home community could be avoided through a system of "halfway houses," a new program proposed by the Illinois Youth Commission and two other state agencies, it was pointed out here Thursday.

Delegates attending an IYC regional conference on youth at Southern Illinois University's Southern campus heard Walter S. Klinek, Chicago and IYC member, describe the halfway house plan. He said it probably will not be ready for submission to the Illinois legislature until 1968.

The halfway house system would provide an intermediate step between probation and commitment to an institution. A study of a similar program in Kentucky showed only half the inmates of halfway houses had to be institutionalized within a year after they returned home, the delegates were told.

300-Bed Center Planned

The proposed network of houses would be built in addition to a new 300-bed juvenile institution to be constructed in Central or Southern Illinois. The Quad City, Alton and East St. Louis areas are among those being considered for the institution site, Klinek said.

Expected to cost an estimated $5,000,000, the new juvenile institution primarily would be used to study delinquent youth and rehabilitation procedures and to

City Master Plan Updating Topic of Meeting Dec. 1

Progressive steps toward updating the Granite City master plan will be discussed Thursday afternoon, Dec. 1, in a meeting of city, school and park officials with representatives of the Southern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

The meeting will be held in the Granite City city hall beginning at 1:15 and will be attended by members of the City Planning Commission and representatives of the Granite City park and school districts and the Housing Authority.

Theodore Mikesell, executive director of SWIMAPAC, said the organization has established district lines and completed certain building studies and population surveys, and now is in a position to advance its preparation of an updated master plan for Granite City.

SWIMAPAC engineers will discuss their next steps with officials of the agencies whom the plan eventually will serve.

Mikesell pointed out that the mapping of sewer lines, location of schools and housing and placement of parks and recreation facilities must be included in the same overall plan and that representatives of the various agencies therefore need to play a part in preparation of the city-wide planning program.

Council to Decide Tonight on Collection of Delinquent Sewer Fees

Granite City council members are faced tonight with making decisions on action to be taken on $19,369 delinquent fees for the Nameoki sanitary sewer system and a timetable and appointment of a bond attorney for a special bond issue vote to match federal funds for a city-wide water and drainage program.

"Salaries for the 21 city hall employees also may be revived, as an ordinance is to be presented to give a 4% increase to the city's painter. The three-page agenda for tonight's meeting lists 13 communications as well as committee and officer reports. The delinquent fees for the Nameoki sanitary sewer system date back to the origin of the system in February 1955, and were reported to the council by Comptroller Robert Stevens, who said he has been studying the systems records since he took office in September.

May Go to Courts
Alderman Paul Rutledge, chairman of the council's finance committee, said drastic steps will be taken by the city to bring about a collection of the sewer rental fees. "Even if we have to go to court."

He said a legal opinion is forthcoming from City Atty. Allen on procedures to be followed. The ordinance, adopted by the council in 1954, establishing a monthly rental fee that sets $250 for a single family dwelling; sets forth a 10% penalty if the monthly payment is not paid in 10 days, calls for liens to be filed against property declared delinquent if the payment is not paid in 30 days. The process of filing a lien currently is in dispute, since that duty falls on the treasurer. E. R. Rich, city treasurer, told the council two weeks ago that he had not signed any liens on the advice of the assistant city attorney.

"I asked him how I could sign the liens when I didn't know if the money actually is owed. I have no access to the ledgers," he added. "The attorney must be better not sign them if I didn't know they were correct, and I don't want to be liable."

Rich advised the council. Finance Committee Chairman Rutledge said this matter should be straitened out in another legal opinion forthcoming from the legal bureau of the Illinois Municipal League.

This legal opinion is being sought on orders of the council to determine if the billing and collecting methods as now being carried out are proper.

The present system is for the comptroller's office to do the billing and the collecting. The old ordinance calls for the city clerk to do the billing and the treasurer to do the collecting.

The city's auditor has recommended the responsibility be divided, with one office doing the billing and another the collecting as a counter balance. Council members are divided in saying policies is playing a role in the present demands for the treasurer to do the collecting instead of the comptroller and for the city clerk to take over the task of billing while one group of aldermen wants the comptroller to at least handle the billing in compliance with the auditor's recommendation.

In the legal opinion sought from the Illinois Municipal League, the city wants an interpretation of the term city clerk.

The council members differ on whether the comptroller, the term clerk also means comptroller, while others hold to the opinion that clerk means only the city clerk.

18-Week John Stamps Trial To Cost Illinois $144,000

The 18-week murder trial of John Stamps of Granite City and three other Menard prison inmates—held at Springfield from May 3 through Aug. 30—will cost the State of Illinois a total of $144,000, it was revealed last week.

Detailed expenses of the trial were listed in an order signed by Chief Circuit Judge Creel Douglas of Springfield, directing the state to pay $93,096 as a reimbursement to Sangamon county. The $93,096 reimbursement did not include $51,000 in fees and expenses for court-appointed attorneys for the four defendants. The attorneys will be paid directly by the state. The attorney fees increased the total cost to the $144,000 figure.

State's Attorney Raymond Terrill of Sangamon county, in petitioning the court for the reimbursement order, detailed the following items: $26,490 for 116 prospective jurors summoned at the beginning of the trial; $30,031 for pay, food and lodging for the 12 regular jurors and two alternates; $31,073 for salaries of deputies and court bailiffs; $3866 for lodging for the prisoners, and $1186 for the jury commission.

Stamps and his three co-defendants, William E. Bassett of Fairfield, Ill., Alonzo Jones of Manchester, Tenn., and Prentiss Griffin, Chicago, were tried on charges of murdering three prison guards during a riot at Menard prison Nov. 23, 1955.

All were found guilty and the jury recommended the death penalty for all except Griffin.

All four have filed petitions for a new trial.

Stamps was serving a 25-year prison term for a murder in Madison in 1950. He was described in trial testimony as the principal ringleader of the riot in which seven guards also were wounded.

508 Users Delinquent

In gathering data on the delinquent fees for the Nameoki sanitary sewer system, Comptroller Stevens said he initially found 508 with the total due amounting to $23,000. He estimated that at least 35 payments were received after letters were sent out over the signature of City Atty. Allen, advising the individuals that the city plans to file suit if the sewer bill is not paid in seven days.

The individuals also are being advised that the cost of filing such a suit is to be added to the sewer bill. The letters were sent to 125 persons owing $50 or more in delinquent fees.

Stevens said the delinquencies are not jeopardizing the schedule of payments on the sewer construction bonds, but that he became concerned over the number of delinquencies and the total.

"I advised the Finance Committee, and it appears now that steps are being taken to correct the situation," Stevens told the Press-Record.

Health Programs Topic of Area Parents, Teachers

Health programs carried out in the Granite City school system were spotlighted Thursday evening at a meeting of the Granite City Area PTA Council, held at Nameoki school. Arthur E. Menendez, council president and Mitchell school principal, welcomed the PTA delegates, school principals and guests.

Mrs. Betty Jo Bartels, nurse at Parkview, Mitchell and Nameoki schools, described the throat culture program now available to students at most local schools. She explained that children displaying sore throat symptoms who attend schools not involved in the detection program may be taken, on the request of the parent, to a participating school, where a specimen will be obtained.

Although financed by the Madison County Heart Association, the throat culture program is being conducted through the school health services. She explained that assistance is provided by PTA groups through unit health chairmen and volunteer drivers who transport the culture to the testing laboratory. Cultures are processed at St.

Elizabeth Hospital laboratory, or in the science department at Granite City high school, Mrs. Bartels reported. She described the duties of a school nurse, which include first-aid measures, compiling health records, screening programs and vision and hearing tests given to pupils on request of their parents or teachers.

Other areas of responsibility include administering tuberculosis patch tests to first, fifth and ninth grade students and assisting other professional personnel in the psychological testing program.

Mrs. Ruth McCarty, also a nurse in the local school system, discussed a special education project directed primarily to girls in the fifth grade age level. She said students are shown films explaining development processes in girls and receive literature on body changes and growth. Parental permission is obtained, she added, prior to girls' viewing the film.

Additional films for planning health programs in connection with the PTA meetings or at schools may be secured through Milk also is served, and bread and butter are served when the menu does not include a sandwich.

If I accomplished nothing but this—clarifying hunting regulations in all of my columns, the time spent on them would be well worth it.

This weekend, Nov. 18-19-20, and again on Dec. 9-10-11, deer season will be in, in Madison as well as every other county within 100 miles.

This means that you cannot hunt rabbits the first two days of rabbit season. You cannot hunt any other game except deer and waterfowl, and only then with a valid permit.

Quail, coon, fox, crow or whatever, you cannot hunt, and deer hunters must have a valid deer permit, stay home these six days. If you do have, hunt nothing but deer.

You cannot have any other type of gun, such as a pistol, with you, nor can you carry any other shotgun ammunition except deer slugs. Simply, if you do not have a valid deer permit, stay home these six days. If you do have, hunt nothing but deer.

Quail came in Nov. 11 and the population looks good. The only problem seems to be all of the standing crops.

Rabbit season comes in Nov. 19th but you cannot hunt them in deer counties until Nov. 21.

Short Red Devils Lose 62-54 To Tall Valmeyer Saturday

First game "jitters" and failure to make rebounds were cited as the Venice Red Devils lost their opening game at Valmeyer 62-54 Saturday night.

Valmeyer led 13-4 at the end of the quarter but baskets by Richard Essington, Venice guard, and Robert Schaffner, center, put the Red Devils ahead by one point, 21-20. However, Valmeyer led 35-29 at halftime and 50-38 after three periods. The Red Devils trailed at one stage by 16 points, but then brought the score to within six points.

Valmeyer, which has already played two games, had a definite height advantage. "Their leading scorer, Falls, was six-foot-six, and the rest of Valmeyer's starting five were taller than our boys," Coach Bill Ohlendorf said. "But, I don't feel that Valmeyer beat us, we beat ourselves by not hitting the boards." Red Devil scorers were John Gardner with 19, Essington 17, and Falls 15.

The Red Devil junior varsity won its game with Valmeyer 45-39, with Pease Gray scoring 14 and Stan Young 13.

"We are going to really practice our rebounding before our game with Columbia," Ohlendorf said. The Red Devils travel to Columbia for their second game of the season Tuesday.

Prather Opens Play Tomorrow

Bob Miller, Prather basketball coach, told the Press-Record today that prospects for this year's junior high teams are good.

Prather opens its season play tomorrow when North of Collinsville travels here.

"Last year we didn't fair too well, but we are working on the press this year and the teams are picking it up," Miller said.

In last season's play, the ninth grade squad finished the season 8-4 and the eighth grade finished 2-12.

AAUW Visits
The Principia
Parents Meet
At St. Joseph's

Members of the Granite City branch of the American Association of University Women attended a talk on "science" at the Principia College Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Thomas Holberlein of the physics department conducted the talk, showing various departments while explaining new methods designed to increase instruction and research, as well as skill in responsible independent study.

There were also demonstrations and explanations in the various departments as the tour was conducted.

Dr. Holberlein was one of 40 to attend an international science conference in France last spring.

Dr. John Wannemaker, an authority on Africa, who has received a citation from the English government for his activities in the field of better African relations, is also back from recent travels with student groups to be held in the summer in Australia, Vietnam, the Bahamas and Africa.

Preceding the visit to the Principia luncheon was given at Clifton Terrace Inn and each guest was presented with a cutting of one of the flowers in the botany department.

Present from this area were Ruby Foster, Charlotte Price, Margaret Berke, Phyllis Redd, Jessie O'Day, Moore Groshong, Rebecca Walden, Jane Elkins, Geneva Wallis, and Dorothy Edwards, a student lecturer and junior past worthy matron of New Hope.

Those escorted were Mrs. Elfreida Barr, chairman of the choir of Grand Chapter of Illinois, and Mrs. Robert Lester, a past matron of New Hope.

After the meeting, refreshments were served to about 60 members of the chapter.

Graves, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, said he hopes local members of the commission can "come to a meeting of the minds."

He said the primary purpose of the state commission is to publicize the proposed Lewis and Clark Trail, which will be developed by the U. S. Commission, not to decide how big the park should be.

One group of proponents for a large park is seeking expansion of 500 or so acres, while those urging an industrial park in Chouteau and Namecki towns are opposing encroachment upon land proposed for new port facilities at the northern end of the Chain of Rocks canal.

Autos driven by Mary Wells Whit, High Point, N. C., and Dorothy Kuka, 1630 Seventh street, Madison, were damaged at 7:05 p.m. Sunday in a collision at Plum street and Cambridge avenue.

TV War Reports Called 'Staged'

Television too often "stages" rather than reports news of the Vietnam war, a special correspondent of the Mutual Broadcasting System said while speaking at Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus Thursday.

Of the 500 war correspondents in Vietnam, the majority do most of their reporting from hotels and bars away from the battlefield, Craig Spence said. He returned this month from Vietnam, where he worked for MBS and as a free-lance writer for several magazines and newspapers.

He said "staging" battles is a favorite trick of television and photographers. Cameramen photograph what the Americans call "reconnaissance by fire." Spence said, making the reconnaissance appear to be a pitched battle.

In "reconnaissance by fire," he explained, American troops rake heavy brush area with bullets to make certain there are no enemy troops hiding there.

The one-sided shooting photographed in relative safety by TV newsmen, and the films are later broadcast as pitched battles. "What most viewers don't realize," Spence said, is that the only shooting they hear is that of American guns.

"There is no censorship of the Vietnam war on the American side," he said. "A correspondent can cover anything he wants to but most don't like to take a chance on getting shot up."

Spence asserted that the Air Force makes 15 seats on each C-123 airplane that goes out on a "milk run" available to the press, but that most of the time these seats are filled by military personnel because correspondents don't want to go.

He added, however, that not all reporters cover the war from a desk, and that nine Associated Press newsmen have been wounded and two killed in the war.

There is a tendency, Spence said, to cover battles rather than "the other war," the war of civic action in Vietnam, because TV films of civic action "won't sell soap."

He said sponsors of TV shows aren't interested in films on the building of schools and hospitals in Vietnam, because they feel the films don't interest viewers and consequently won't promote their product.

"The banging and noise of a battle is more exciting," he said. Spence said he feels troop build-up in Vietnam will eventually reach a million men, with 700,000 sometime next year. There are presently 400,000 Americans in Vietnam, he said. Announcement that draft calls will be reduced is probably just a political gimmick in preparing for the 1968 presidential election, he said. He expects President Johnson to step up the draft call just before the 1968 election, declaring the step-up a move to end the war.

The question in Vietnam now, Spence said, is "will we cave-in militarily before we force them to the conference table?"

"We have this marvelous idea that by being right, therefore we will win," Spence said. "It may not sound very good, but it's going to be power, not who's right, that wins the war."

Purchases Along Venice Highway Route to Begin

The Illinois division of highways will begin purchase of right-of-way for Federal Aid Route 151 (the Great River Road) in the Kerr Island area next month or, at the latest, some time in January, the Venice city council was notified Friday night.

In a letter to Dr. John E. Lee, Venice mayor, District Highway Engineer Robert Kronst of the French Village office informed the city that the highway department is awaiting authority for acquisition of the right-of-way from the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

"It is expected that right-of-way negotiations will begin either in December of this year or shortly after the first of the year," Kronst said. "It is expected that all right-of-way for FA Route 151 in the Kerr Island area necessary for construction of the proposed subway on Broadway will be secured during 1967."

Kronst added that "it is anticipated that the construction of the subway structure will be included in our 1968 program provided that funds are made available for this purpose. Additional construction on FA Route 151 between Niedringhaus avenue in Granite City and Broadway in Venice, is also expected to be included in our 1968 program."

Purchase of right-of-way in the Kerr Island area will displace approximately 270 people and city officials have estimated that steps must be taken to provide housing for approximately 200 of these. The council two weeks ago authorized applications for federal funds to finance a series of

Venice Crossing

Commerce Commission files contained no notice of the intended changes in plans other than the information contained in the highway division's report of Nov. 3.

Mayor Lee said the changes requested by the railroad are departures from the original plans for the Broadway underpass submitted to the ICC in March 1964 and adopted in the commission's order for construction of the underpass, issued Oct. 21, 1965.

During the period of March 11, 1964, through Oct. 21, 1965, when a series of hearings was held by the ICC to develop a construction order and fix the share of costs for the underpass to be borne by the state, the city of Venice and the railroad, the railroad proposed no changes in the plans, he said.

The mayor pointed out that the Illinois Commerce Commission order for construction of the underpass provided that the structure be built "within two years."

He said that "this means the deadline for building the underpass roughly is around Nov. 1 of next year. The railroad says their changes will delay plan-making by the state until late next year. It will take the state about six months to complete detailed plans and specifications. In addition, it will take about a year to build the underpass.

Funds Still Tied Up

Meanwhile, Mayor Lee pointed out, the city of Venice "has put aside the money for our share of the project—a total of about $450,000. We have closed Kerr street and South Main street. We have a steadily worsening traffic situation because the railroad are causing more and more delay on Broadway. Construction costs are rising steadily while this delay is occurring."

"We can use this money for many things," Mayor Lee added. "We have been unable to give city employees raises because of a shortage of funds. We need a new fire house badly. I can see no further reason for tying up this money if the railroad are to continue delaying the underpass work."

The mayor explained that the ICC order of October 1965 also fixed shares of cost to be borne by the state, the city of Venice and the railroad.

In this order, he said, the ICC fixed a cost of $180,000 to be paid by the railroad, while the balance of the originally estimated cost of about $1,250,000 was divided between the state and the city of Venice on a percentage

Youth Beaten, Treated

Alan Taylor, 17, of 2545 Lynch avenue received emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:30 a.m. Sunday. He said he was beaten by a group of boys. He suffered a laceration to the chin and an injury to the right forearm and was released following treatment.

Change Increase Cost

This means, he noted, that the additional cost incurred by enlarging of the underpass on both sides by track rearrangements proposed by the railroad would fall upon the state and the city of Venice unless the original ICC order is amended.

"I don't know if the railroad have any intention of carrying out their agreement," the mayor said, adding that "they certainly don't seem to be showing the good faith they indicated in the agreement between the city, the state and themselves."

Immediately after the first of the year, Mayor Lee told council members, "we will petition the ICC to enforce their order against the railroad."

"Failing that, we will petition the commission to release the city of Venice from the October 1965 order and divert the underpass escrow fund to city use for purposes we so greatly need."

Outgoing Sheriff Praises Staff of 64; 27 From Here

Outgoing Sheriff Barney Fraudorff today paid tribute to his 64 employees, saying they have developed many law enforcement skills.

The group consists of Chief Deputy George C. Ramach of Madison; 14 deputies, including Delbert Clemons, Charles Kosch, Dennis Nicholas, John Olesky and Booker Walton, all of Madison; John Cooper and Roy Hall, both of Granite City, and Joe Roberts of Eagle Park; nine process servers, among them Steven Kusmierzak of Granite City and Stanley Wojcik of Madison; three secretaries, including Roseann Koelker of Venice and a radio engineer, James Treadway and Sam Wallace, both of Venice; and two maintenance engineers, an elevator operator and a janitor, all of Granite City.

Fraudorff's comments follow: "Dec. 4 is my last day as sheriff of Madison county."

"This is directed to, and concerns, all of the present employees of the Madison county sheriff's office. With the large size of Madison county, and the changes in civil and criminal law in the past few years, it has been a need in the sheriff's office for skilled employees in many fields."

"The present deputies and process servers with my office have all had some training in this line of work, and have done a tremendous job for me over the past few years."

"The work of the radio dispatchers, the jailers, in handling jail procedure and conducting field activities under Chief Deputy Clemons, has been tremendous, and all of them have shown themselves capable of handling the specialized work involved in this office."

"Those in other areas are also to be commended for the job they have done for the sheriff's office. The clerical staff, the secretaries, the cooks, the firemen, the court bailiffs, the matrons, the janitors, the maintenance engineers, the elevator operator and the radio engineer. They all deserve individual commendation."

"And I cannot forget the invaluable aid that has been given me by the unpaid special deputies throughout the county."

"A great deal of credit must be extended to Chief Deputy George Ramach, who has done a terrific job in assisting with the entire operation."

"I want to thank all of them for the many extra hours without pay that were put in to make possible the present raise in standards of the sheriff's office. I know that they will work as hard under the newly-elected sheriff, George Musso, as they did for me, and that with their help the improvements started in the sheriff's office will be continued, and new ones will be incorporated."

"I want to thank the citizens of Madison county for the cooperation they have given the representatives of my office, and myself, over the past four years. And to my employees, thanks for the job you've done for the people of Madison county, and for myself."

School Patrol Youngsters Attend AAA Safety Meeting

Approximately 200 youngsters who comprise elementary school safety patrol units participated in a unique training session from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Saturday in the forenoon at the Granite City high school auditorium.

Sponsored by the Granite City Optimist Club, the program was arranged by John Drevos, youth work chairman.

Stanley Keesling, director of Traffic and Safety for the Auto Mobile Club of Missouri, related the history and objectives of the nation-wide school patrol program. He said the AAA Club has continued to encourage and help sponsor such patrols since their inception in the Chicago areas in 1922.

Pointing out the youthful audience many of the hazardous conditions that can possibly lead to accidents near school buildings, the director illustrated the topic with a film, "Your School Patrol." The movie described the formation and duties of school groups in other communities.

Granite City Patrolman Gerald Pinkerton also addressed the local youngsters, describing the type of clothing most recommended for patrol members to wear and provide easier spotting by motorists. He also stressed that good manners and conduct must be displayed by patrol members to gain the greatest cooperation from their fellow students.

The local police officer conducted a demonstration on the duties and responsibilities of patrol members.

Propose Parkview School as State Center on Non-Graded Transfer Plans

A plan to seek designation of Parkview grade school as a demonstration center under the Illinois school code was approved Thursday night by the Granite City school board.

The center would be established to demonstrate operation of the school's present non-graded program in kindergarten through the sixth grade.

Emphasis would be placed on four aspects:

Kindergarten—use of the initial training alphabet to teach reading to immature and gifted pupils.

Language arts and mathematics for kindergarten through the sixth grade—use of multiple choice tests.

Social studies and art—team teaching.

If approved by the state, the demonstration program will be financed completely from state funds for the biennium of July 1967 through June 1969.

In filing a letter of intent, the school district is acting prior to a Dec. 1 deadline.

If the state is favorably inclined after an on-site inspection, the school system is to submit a detailed project proposal.

Providing a project proposal is requested by the state and is approved, the state will be asked to fund the state by Jan. 13, 1967, for final action.

Educator 25 Years

Anderson, born in Americus, Kan., holds bachelor and master's degrees from the Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia. His 25 years in education include five years as a teacher in Wakefield, Kan. His current post was administrative assistant in charge of business.

He was employed by the U. S. Justice Department's Bureau of Prisons, and spent three and a half years in the Air Force, reaching the rank of technical sergeant. In the service, he was a member of a group which planned and operated an instructional flying school at Bryan, Tex., for Link tractor instruction.

Anderson joined the Granite City high school faculty in September 1947 and rose to become the business education department. In June 1958 he was promoted to the central administrative staff under Superintendent Paul A. Wolfe, and has since handled the business and fiscal duties since that time.

He has a wife, Loydene, and three children, a girl, age 4 and a boy, age 2, and their daughter, Cynthia, 10, and son, Michael, eight, both pupils at Mitchell school. Anderson has served as a director of the Illinois Association of School Business Officials and on several national committees of the U. S. Association of School Business Officials. He is a member of the Granite City Optimist Club and Illinois Education Association.

In discussing the appointments, Board President Monroe Worthen asked that the school district organizational chart be revised to show the new lines of supervisory control.

Whether the board will need to meet prior to Nov. 30 will be decided following receipt of an informal report on the Chicago conference, Worthen said Thursday night.

Three-Auto Accident

An auto driven by Garnet E. Forgunson, 2336 Clark avenue, collided with the rear of one driven by Blanche M. Smith, 743 Broadway, Venice, shoving it into the rear of a third car driven by Pauline G. Forgunson was charged with following too closely and was summoned for a hearing by Nov. 29.

Board Completes GCHS Cafeteria Transfer Plans

Arrangements for transfer of Granite City high school cafeteria portions to the new cafeteria building effective today were completed by the school board Thursday night. Moving of furniture was planned for Friday.

The date was dictated by the park district sports banquet this evening and by a breakdown of dishwashing equipment in the old cafeteria.

Approval for the move was given by the contractors, with the understanding that they will complete after occupancy all remaining items on "punch lists" as needed installations.

While some equipment and furniture is involved in the move, other articles were purchased new for the new kitchen and dining area, which will seat 720 to 800 persons.

Some equipment from the old GCHS cafeteria is to be used in the new cafeteria, primarily Central junior high and Nidderhagen grade school.

In other business Thursday night the school board authorized action necessary to correct a problem in heating water at Granite City junior high school. A steam coil apparently has broken in a booster heater that provides 180-degree water for rinsing of dishes.

The Wilson PTA was authorized to let Christmas trees in the school yard during daylight hours Dec. 17-23.

Postpone Dedication

Dedication of Parkway grade school Dec. 4 was postponed due to the death of Superintendent Johnson. It is to be held some time after the Christmas-New Year's holidays.

M. A. Wirtzberger, director of vocational and adult education authorized to attend the 58 meeting in Denver, Colo., of the American Vocational Association.

Due to the death of Mr. Finley Maxwell and the unavailability of a teacher, the six classes that he taught at Coolidge junior high school have been divided between two teachers, an assistant principal, two consultants and a counselor.

The Coolidge faculty previously was short one other industrial crafts teacher, resulting in five teachers being assigned to six classes each rather than the usual five classes.

It was noted that the Education Division of Southern Illinois University has offered its services in helping find a new school superintendent, and that the Granite City Air Pollution Board is asking the district to study current trash burning procedures.

Permission was given for eight Coolidge junior high school students to attend a "junior journalist" meeting Nov. 19 in St. Louis and for groups of 30 from the Granite City high school band to attend symphony concerts Nov. 19, Dec. 3, Jan. 21, April 22, May 20 and June 3.

Medic Leaving Here For Vietnam Honored

Sgt. Fred Southwick, an Army medic who leaves this week for the west coast and assignment in Vietnam, was honored at a farewell party Saturday evening, given by Amvets Quaid-City Post 51. Approximately 35 members and guests attended the event in the host home, 5100 Lakeview drive.

For a year, recalled to be a full day in June, Sgt. Southwick, 45, was employed for three and a half years as a therapist at the St. Elizabeth Hospital. He is the first Post 51 member recalled into the service in the Vietnam war.

Sgt. Southwick retired from the Army in 1962 after 21 years of service. During that time he had seen duty in the Philippines, Japan, Italy and Germany. Since June, he has been stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

He and his wife, Isabella, were married in Rome, Italy, in 1947. The couple, along with their four children, Michael, 17, David, 14, Stephanie, 12, and Francesca, 10, reside at 3185 Lee avenue.

Army authorities said his activation is due to a critical shortage of medics. Referring to his recall, Sgt. Southwick told Post 51 members Saturday, "We have a moral obligation to serve regardless of age and service."

Yogurt Gaining Popularity

Once the food faddists' cure-all for many ailments, yogurt is finally being recognized as a nourishing and refreshing dairy food for everyone. The addition of fruit flavors to this centuries-old product has increased its popularity.

Plain cultured yogurt has practically the same food value as the milk from which it is made.

From Biblical times until recent years yogurt remained almost unchanged. Then food scientists began to work to improve it. Today yogurt may be semi-solid or liquid, modified whole or modified partly skimmed milk, plain or flavored.

When yogurt is made from cultured whole milk, the milk is modified in various ways. The milk itself may be concentrated, or milk solids may be added to achieve a higher total solids content of about 15%, and a milk fat content of about 2%. When partly skimmed milk is used, the fat content is reduced to less than 2%. Both types are good sources of calcium, riboflavin and protein.

In processing yogurt, manufacturers combine milk with a laboratory-controlled culture, producing a tender, tangy "custard." Many find that a taste for yogurt-like olives—must be cultivated.

Whole-milk yogurt has about 170 calories per cup, while yogurt made with partly skimmed milk has about 145 calories. A versatile dairy product, yogurt may be eaten "as is" with a spoon as a mealtime main dish or dessert, or as a between-meal or bed-time snack. Plain yogurt may also be used in most recipes that call for sour cream, although the resulting dish may be a little more tart than when made with sour cream.

When cooking with yogurt, as with all high-protein, high-acid foods, spare the heat. Low temperatures and short heating periods are best.

Using Blenders Wisely

Getting the most benefit from a new electric blender depends on wise use and care. Here are some suggestions:

Keep your new appliance accessible. Its uses are endless, but only if you can reach it easily.

Plan to use your blender for the jobs it can do best. Manufacturers recommend such jobs as chopping raw vegetables, blending liquids, pureeing fruits, making breadcrumbs and whipping beverages.

Don't try to do jobs that can be done better with a mixer or other equipment. These jobs include those where air is to be incorporated, such as whipping cream or egg whites, and where heavy beaters are to be blended.

Use small amounts of food at a time rather than a full jar. Don't fill the blender more than one-half to three-fourths full, especially when cutting solid food.

Adding liquid to cover blades before adding solid food to be cut will keep food from packing around the blades.

Stop the appliance before using a rubber spatula to push food down into the container. Avoid overblending. It takes only seconds in a blender to cut, puree or combine foods compared with minutes when using other methods.

After use, add water to half fill the container, add a small amount of detergent and run the blender for a few seconds. Remove the container and pour off the contents. Then rinse it with hot water, and it is ready for use.

Clean the outside of the motor by wiping it with a damp cloth. For specific recommendations, refer to the manufacturer's instruction book that came with your blender.

As an average American, you probably ate 80 hot dogs last year. That sounds like a lot, and it is. A well-known meat packing company reports that the ever popular wiener is consumed at a rate of 29,000 per minute, 74 hours a day. Translating these figures in yet another way, more than 15 billion wieners are eaten each year in the United States.

Certain foods are seasonably more plentiful than others. Prices often are more favorable when supplies are plentiful. Wise shoppers watch prices in local markets and purchase accordingly.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture forecast of plentiful for November includes grapes, pears, dry beans, pork, turkey and raisins.

3 New Homes Among Permits During Week

Three new homes were among nine building permits issued in Granite City last week. Values totaled $47,700.

The activity raised the total for the first 17 days of the month to 19 permits with values of $59,778.

Robert Turner obtained permits for a five-room brick home and a four-room brick in Wilson Park Estates at $14,000 and $12,000 respectively. Anthony Mangi received one for a six-room, 1½-bath brick veneer home at 3246 Willow avenue at a cost of $17,000.

Permits for other purposes were issued to Malek Hagopian, 1714 Chestnut street, general repairs, $2100; William Baldasare, 2848 Iowa street, repairs, $300; Charles Pulley, 2029 Sherman avenue, general repairs, $1000; Paul Harshany, 2636 Washington avenue, repair furnace room, $200; Kenneth Murray, 1819 State street, a carport, $400; and Joseph P. Gates, 2134 Missouri avenue, a utility room addition, $700.

2 More Youngsters Write Prize Winning Santa Letters

Two more winners in the Associated Retailers' "Letters to Santa" contest were announced today by Morris Helman, president of the merchants' group.

The youngsters will be notified by the association of their awards, a picture of themselves with Santa after his Friday arrival here to set up headquarters in his log cabin at 19th street and Edison avenue.

Still Accepting Letters
Letters still are being accepted at the Associated Retailers' office, 1831 Delmar avenue, even though Santa has solved his problem and will arrive here for his annual visit on Friday, Nov. 25. Youngsters are asked to give their full names and ages and their parents' names and addresses.

Little Kathy Rumpfelt in her letter said:
"Dear Santa—My name is Kathy, and I am five years old. My Mommy read your letters in the paper to me, and I felt so bad when she read that you might not get to come on Nov. 25."

"I think if each boy and girl would take one toy off their list, then maybe your elves could get finished in time for you to come Nov. 25. If you get here on the 26th, I will know my idea worked. Love, Kathy Rumpfelt."

The letter from little Lester Patterson carried this appeal—
"Dear Santa Claus, I can't write yet, so I asked Mommy to do it for me. Mommy read me the letter you had in the paper about Mrs. Claus and the elves being sick, and I'm sorry."

"Mommy asked me what I thought would help bring you here faster. If all the little kids youngsters are asked to give their full names and ages and their parents' names and addresses."

Show Patriotism-Aid Servicemen

To the Editor: We, the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary, packaged and sent seven packages to Granite City servicemen in Vietnam. There is plenty in these boxes for them to share with a few of their buddies.

When we decided to do this, we felt that a lot of people might like to share this idea with us. The Press-Record gave us a nice article listing three phone numbers for pick-up, and the DAV address downtown if they wanted to drop off any items. We're sorry to report that not one item was dropped off and not one phone call was received.

We know that people who have someone over there send packages, but we thought that people who had no one over there might like to show their appreciation for the sacrifice these boys are making. I'm sure the servicemen would like to be snuggled and safe here in Granite City.

Each of us in the DAV Auxiliary had someone who was wounded or killed in other wars, and we can appreciate what these boys are doing.

A check-out girl in the store where we were buying items heard us talking about what we were doing and gave us a nice donation to make purchases with. We are grateful for people like her.

But where is everyone's patriotism? Are they giving no thought to those who are giving so much?

I'm sure other organizations are doing the same thing we are. To those who are doing nothing, that they send a card or something.

Maybe they say they don't understand this war. Maybe we feel that it is worthwhile and for a good cause. They should let them know in some way that it cares.

We've sent the packages and know the boys will enjoy them, and we hope to repeat the procedure in a month or so.

For an honorable peace we must win in Vietnam and we must resolve the unfair aspects of the selective service system.

retirement, investment questions

By Thomas E. O'Hara, Chairman, Board of Trustees, National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I am a college teacher, eligible for retirement in two years. My wife and I will have a monthly retirement income of $900 from the following sources: social security for my wife and myself, $212; school pension, $125; an annuity policy, $36; and income from royalties, $15.

I would like to have it invested for my old age, since I will have no other income except social security and whatever I manage to save. Any suggestions would be appreciated. I am not a gambler.

Discount on Canadian Funds A. The economic policy of the Dominion government seems to be to keep the Canadian dollar's value somewhat below that of the American dollar. So it seems probable that if you purchase some discount on your Canadian funds regardless of when you bring them to the United States.

If you are adequately covered by accident and health insurance, I suggest that you place at least three-fourths of your $20,000 into good grade securities. You are still a young man and these should grow in value and provide you with a hedge against inflation, which is almost certain to continue.

Why don't you talk to the trust officer in your local bank for suggestions? Also, visit an experienced broker. These talks will bind you to nothing, but will help you formulate your own ideas as to how best to handle your investment problems.

Stalemate Saps Nation's Strength, Could Thwart Freedom Even Without Major War

A war of attrition is defined as one in which a strong contender is gradually worn down and exhausted by the severity and duration of the conflict.

It is becoming increasingly clear that the enemy's strategy in the Vietnam war, and that America would be foolish to conform to it.

Already spending at least $2 billion a month on the Vietnam struggle, the U. S. probably could not afford two such wars simultaneously, although the Communists could afford two or three if fought on their terms. Perhaps worse, the fund drain is preventing us from seeking to develop an at least partially effective anti-missile system.

When Russia is installing such defensive devices around its large cities.

The dollar aspect is important because of what it is preventing this country from doing. An even greater loss is the danger, injury and death visited upon the flower of American manhood—the young men who meet fitness and intelligence requirements of the armed forces.

North Vietnam is said to be willing to continue the fight for 15 or 20 years, providing we continue to abide by our self-imposed limitations. Such a prospect is intolerable.

One does not have to be a "dove" or a "hawk" to say that a boxer following Marquis of Queensbury rules eventually must lose to an alley fighter.

Yet those who maintain that we must abide by the niceties, granting the enemy privileged sanctuaries where it prepares for further raids on South Vietnam, contend that this is the only alternative to starting world war III.

There must be a third course, besides a major war or a continuation of the present fighting.

The growing number of Americans, probably a majority, demands that we find it, either through military victory or negotiated peace.

Liberals Undermining Freedom, Patriotism

To the Editor: Liberals were silent in the wake of the Hungarian uprising, the Berlin Wall, the Berlin airlift, the UN slaughter of innocent people in the Congo turmoil, the senseless Mau Mau killing in Kenya, the slaughter of their own people and others, Algerian "army of liberation," Sukarno's seizure of Dutch New Guinea, Castro's behavior in Cuba and Nehru's lawless seizure of Goa.

They talk about police brutality but do not want to pay the bill. They favor violation of state rights through use of federal marshals. They approve of a costly effort to enter into a truce in a university. They downgrade patriotism.

Excessive scale of liberal juries to obtain "justice" is depriving people of their rightful liberties.

It is obvious that liberalism is not progressive, as it purports to be. Devout of moral conviction for its own self-styled, unifying morality, it is not unifying but divisive.

Liberalism has created a furor in America. A liberal U. S. foreign policy has made us the hated Yankee of "Yankee go home."

It passionately proclaims that there are answers to all problems, and makes unemployment, poverty, ignorance, illegitimacy, Communism, etc., its specialty. Nowhere does it concede that some of these problems may be around until the time like war, for example.

Liberalism repudiates religion, and attempts to quiet its conscience with a lot of junk that prompts myriad action and problem-solving efforts.

Nearly Half of County Voters Split Their Tickets This Year

Because neither political party has cornered the market on good candidates, it is pleasing to note the canvass report that 30,573 Madison county voters cast split ballots in the election this month.

The number exceeds those voting straight Democratic ballots, 26,557, and straight Republican ballots, 13,467, and represents 43% of the 70,527 turnout. Only 26% in Madison county voted for candidates of more than one party in the 1964 general election.

This trend is logical in that both major parties increasingly encompass a wide diversity of governmental philosophy; each is offering an umbrella under which conservatives, middle-of-the-roads and liberals can gather.

It is a healthy development because it focuses attention on the individual rather than on his party label. This is important because it is the caliber of each officeholder—combined with the extent of citizen interest in his performance—that determines the effectiveness of our government.

River Road Progressing Southward

Awarding of a contract to grade almost four miles of right-of-way assures immediate tangible progress in the southward extension of Federal Aid Route 151, the Great River Road.

The riverfront highway has been a long time reaching the Quad-Cities, and completion will be several years away. But the grading from a point north of West Pontoon road to Nieringhaus avenue will bring the project into the heart of the Quad-Cities, greatly increasing the possibility that it will be paved and linked with several local streets during 1968.

Scheduling of street improvements and traffic planning to mesh with the new highway ranks among the most important tasks facing the Granite City municipal government. Action will be needed soon so that appropriate timing results.

It is said that evil flourishes in the world because too many good people let their differences divide them instead of letting the things on which they agree unite them.

New School District Leadership

With two of the three local school superintendents dying unexpectedly this fall, the planning they had developed must be carried out by others.

Fortunately, the younger administrators who have been placed in charge had an opportunity to work closely with Superintendents Johnson and Brown, and also have the benefit of detailed programs prepared before their deaths.

In the Madison district, a comprehensive plan for utilization of federal educational grants was drawn up several months ago and is to be implemented. In the Granite City school system, a superintendent selection procedure had just been completed and there had been a preliminary study of population trends and their probable impact.

The future inevitably will bring challenges and problems, but there is cause to believe that they can be met successfully by the two largest Quad-City taxing bodies.

He whose pants wear out before his shoes is making too much use of his item of apparel and not enough use of the other.

Health conditions to constructing elected township supervisors would become the governing commission of the county.

In a general election of 1949, a majority of Illinois counties chose the township system and staffed these units with a supervisor, clerk, tax collector, justices of the peace and constables.

Practically the entire northern part of the county, six others established township governments. Eventually, this totaled 85 counties with township governmental bodies, and 17 with county commission systems.

In 1983, Cook County, including the mushrooming city of Chicago, established a separate county board of commissioners, along with the 30 township governmental bodies, and within its county boundaries.

Growth Trend Compared An interesting observation may be made in respect to the development of township government in Illinois. Those 17 counties which have retained the non-township system have apparently reflected the loss of the people's close interest and participation in their government.

Four of these 17 have actually declined in population since 1870, and the other 13 have remained about the same in population count.

Inside the cluster of the commission type of counties, and counties within the state of Illinois, the township government has been most pronounced where local government—township government—is active.

Whether it be a nation, state, county or township, when the people feel themselves a part of their government, they will feel more strongly about their own government, the progress of their community.

This is one of the true values of the present township government of which township government is a part.

Constitution Revised This, when the second Illinois Constitution was adopted in 1848, it gave the township government the status of a county government, and the counties electing to do so.

This also provided that the township government be a part of the county government.

Madison County Taxpayers Would Assume Biggest Share of Junior College Cost

Madison county taxpayers would assume 77% of the overall cost of the proposed four-county Lewis and Clark Junior College District, with Quad-City property owners footing 24.5% of the bill, it was shown today in a comparison of assessment figures set out in a feasibility study recommending establishment of such a district.

The plan, based on a study made by a Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus survey committee, won its first step of approval last week from the Illinois Junior College Board and now awaits action of the Illinois Board of Higher Education. On the basis of the higher board's previous actions, approved by that body also is anticipated by the Lewis and Clark Educational Foundation which activated and promoted the Junior College program in this area.

Wibur R. L. Trimpe, Madison county superintendent of schools and chairman of the foundation, told the Press-Record that the Illinois Board of Higher Education is to meet Dec. 9 on the local area program, and that he anticipates unqualified approval of the plan at that time to clear the way for a timetable of activity that would permit organization of the Lewis and Clark Junior College District to be completed and in operation by early next spring.

Trimpe pointed out that if the Board of Higher Education approves the program, it will be remanded to the Illinois Junior College Board which, in turn, will notify Trimpe, as chairman of the foundation, of such action and authorize him to call a public hearing on the proposal.

Trimpe said he has set Jan. 4 as the tentative date for such a hearing—selecting that time, he added, because the Illinois Junior College Board meets eight days later and thus can give immediate review to the facts brought out in the hearing.

Assuming the public hearing testimony supports the feasibility of establishing the district, Trimpe explained, the state board then will instruct Trimpe to call a referendum on a proposal to establish the district. Under the present plan it will embrace all of Madison and Jersey counties, most of Calhoun county and the lower one-third of Macoupin county.

Trimpe must wait 41 days before calling the election under state law governing Junior College District organization.

Trimpe said plans have been made for the election which, he said, will be conducted in 100 polling places throughout the district. Schools will be used to eliminate cost of renting polling locations and volunteer judges and clerks will serve without pay. In this manner, he said, practically all election cost will be eliminated except that for publication of legal notices and the printing of ballots.

Need Second Election

If the proposal is approved, a second election will be called to choose a seven-man Junior College Board. Trimpe pointed out that as superintendent of the largest populated county in the district and chairman of the area foundation, he will direct the calling of the elections and other organizational activities up to the final organization of the Junior College Board.

"At that point I step out of the picture and the Junior College district is on its own," Trimpe said.

He pointed out that upon completion of organization, the Junior College Board will receive $100,000 from the state to finance operations until taxes can be extended and collected.

The feasibility survey of the Lewis and Clark district, prepared by Henry T. Boss, George H. Goodwin and Howard D. Southwood of the Education Division of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus, estimated a total assessed valuation of $1,125,000,000 for the entire district.

Propose Three Campuses

Proposing three separate Junior College campuses, location of which will be determined later by the district's own board, the study estimates total building and site costs for the first five years operation at $11,550,000. The study points out that the state will bear 75% of the cost of such building and site cost until 1970, when the state share drops to half of the cost. This is intended to spur Junior College construction within the next four years.

An annual operating budget of $1,655,318 is estimated for the beginning period of operation based on a projected enrollment of 2000 students. The finance committee of the foundation recommended a tuition of $5.50 per semester hour for each student, a total of $82.50 per semester or $165 for the academic year per full time student. On the basis of 2000 students this would provide $330,000.

State aid on this basis would amount to $11.50 per semester hour, or $46 per student per year—a total of $690,000 for 2000 students. This would leave $85,318 to be raised by an educational fund tax rate for operating costs.

The estimated building and site cost of $11,550,000 reduced by the 75% of cost available from the state would leave $2,887,500 which would have to be met by the Junior College District, the study sets out.

Estimate Tax Rate

If this sum were amortized over a ten-year period at 5% the sum of $369,000 would be needed each year. To this would be added an additional $100,000 as annual fees for temporary facilities for at least the first and possibly the second year of operation of the district. This amounts to $469,000 per year and would require a tax rate of 4.17 cents per $100 assessed valuation. The $625,318 required for operating expenses would require a rate of 5% cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Therefore cost of educational and building purposes would require a total tax rate of 9.82 cents per $100 assessed valuation at the beginning of operation with a projected enrollment of 2000 students.

Of the estimated $1,125,000,000 assessed valuation within the district, the greater portion of that lies within Madison county. The Madison county assessed valuation for the 1965 year, latest figure available, was $864,066,572, or 77% of the total estimated valuation of the district.

The combined assessed valuations of the four townships of the Quad-City area—Granite City, Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau—amount to $276,331,501, or 24.5% of the district's total estimated assessment.

Seventy-two of Illinois' 102 counties are represented in fall term student enrollment at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus.

Though there are no housing facilities on campus, students listed their homes in 18 states other than Illinois and 20 foreign countries. Total fall term enrollment amounted to 7583. Madison and St. Clair counties led the enrollment list with 3508 and 2107 students, while neighboring Mississippi contributed 881, mostly from the St. Louis area.

Some students make a 60-mile trek by auto, particularly evening graduates—students taking one or two courses per term.

Other nations represented by one student each include Canada, British Guiana, England, China, Hungary, India, and Japan. Three students come from Greece and two each from Iran and Lebanon.

GC Optimists Honor Youth Leaders, City Officials

Granite City Optimists paid tribute last week to seven local junior high school students who recently were elected to city offices as part of "Youth Appreciation Week" observances.

The seven, along with their official counterparts, were luncheon guests at the club's weekly meeting in the YMCA, during "Youth in Government Day," Thursday.

The youthful guests included: Rick Darwell, Coolidge, mayor;

Robert Dolan, Prather, chief of police; Tim Moore, Coolidge, fire chief; Nancy Sternberg, Coolidge, comptroller; Larry Hicks, Prather, city clerk; Phillip Dorich, Central, magistrate; and Mary Lee, Central, city treasurer.

Official guests were Judge Merlin Hiscott, Fire Chief Earl Frombarger, E. R. Rich, city treasurer; Homer Pendleton, city clerk; Robert Stevens, comptroller; and Assistant Police Chief Floyd Jeff. Mayor Donald Partney, a club member, also was present.

Mayor Partney introduced the guests and presented each of the student-officials with a certificate. He also invited the group to attend tonight's city council meeting with their parents, to observe the proceedings and sit with the office holders.

John Drees, youth work chairman, reported other activities held during "Youth Appreciation Week," including a banquet which honored the seven students and featured St. Louis Cardinal shortstop Dal Maxvill as guest speaker; a teenage dance, held Friday evening at the YMCA; and participation by club members and their young guests in half-time ceremonies during the City-Bellefonte football contest.

Lawrence McCauley, Granite City high school principal and an Optimist member, presented historical account of the local community, prior to the city's incorporation. He also related recorded details of the devastation caused by the "great flood" of 1903.

Wilbur Tribes, Optimist president, conducted the business session and announced cancellation of this week's meeting due to Thanksgiving Day. Arthur Roseman reported Optimist members currently are selling tickets for the club's annual Christmas tree benefit sale, slated to start early next month.

SUSTAINED SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE award of $150 is presented to Miss Connie Opich of Granite City, employed by the U. S. Army Aviation Materiel Command in St. Louis. Presenting the check is Joseph A. Moro, director of materiel.

Winter Grazing Problems

Livestock producers can use many acres of pasture and hay land for late fall and winter grazing. But give careful attention to the time and amount of grazing on permanent bluegrass or tall fescue pastures and legume-grass pastures and hay fields.

During wet seasons, confine grazing of bluegrass and fescue to well-drained sites. Severe trampling and deep cutting of the soil sharply reduce the yields from pastures and hay fields.

Grasses and legumes pastured into the ground, particularly during the winter, lose their vigor. Plants weakened by excessive grazing pressure become more susceptible to cold injury during the winter and to heaving damage in the spring. Heaving damage is particularly critical in legumes.

On the bluegrass pastures, leave a final stubble of at least 1½ inches or more. On other tall-growing pasture and hay grasses, leave at least two or three inches of stubble when you discontinue pasturing.

Grasses reduce their food reserves in the crown and base of stems and leaves. The plant uses little of this food during the winter, but it is essential for keeping the plant alive. And complete removal of leaves and stems during fall and winter grazing robs the grass plants of their energy for spring growth.

Pastures that are grazed to bare ground do not hold so much snow as those having a little stubble. Snow acts as an insulator that modifies the change in temperature for the plant and protects it against short periods of extremely low temperatures. Grass and legume plants that are covered with an inch or more of snow are less likely to suffer cold damage than those without snow cover.

Winter pastures, usually fescue but also bluegrass in which the summer production is made into round bales and left in the field, should be divided into small grazing units. Restrict animals to the small units until the bales are well utilized. Provide a week's grazing at a time for the herd.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 28 Mon., Nov. 21, 1966

Determine the grazing unit by the general rule of one bale of hay per cow per day. For example, an 80-cow herd should have about 80 bales of hay per week for each grazing unit. Provide a mineral supplement to animals on winter pasture. Pasturing can continue throughout most or all of the winter throughout southern Illinois if feed is available.

Many farm machinery custom operators are now experiencing a squeeze on profits. It's largely the result of a dramatic rise in the number of available harvesting machines with no real increase in harvesting work. Today's custom rates may not reflect the total operating costs. Once the cost is sunk in a machine, an operator may be better off to use below cost rather than let it sit idle.

Large Family Farm

Studies of farm records indicate that the large family farm will be around in the future in most of the Midwest. Ownership patterns may have to change some, but management is in the saddle. Men living on the land are apt to prefer managing it instead of owning it.

Each year more farmers enroll in an educational service involving the study of farm financial records. Farm management associations cooperating with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture offer farm business analyses as part of an educational program for helping farmers make better management decisions. Currently 664 Illinois farmers are enrolled in ten Farm Bureau Farm Management associations cooperating with the U. of I. Persons interested in enrolling should contact their county farm adviser.

Feed Supplement Needed

With present high prices of protein supplement, hog producers who are using pigs to glean protein from corn fields may be tempted to forget to feed supplement. A recent test at the University of Illinois showed how slow and expensive gains are without protein supplement. Gains on pigs that received corn, vitamins, minerals and antibiotics cost $3 more per hundred pounds than pigs that were fed the same ration but with protein supplement. Pigs fed supplement gain almost twice as fast,

Van Court Wilkens (right) in a recent ceremony at Fort Ord, Calif. Lt. Keeton originally was commissioned Sept. 15, 1965, at Fort Benning, Ga. He is executive officer for Headquarters Co., U. S. Army Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command.

Collide in Madison

Cars driven by Charles E. Tennant, Collinsville, and Walter Boyd Jr., East St. Louis, were damaged Thursday, at Second street and Madison avenue, in Madison. Police said Tennant, headed west on Second street was making a left turn onto Madison avenue and Boyd, headed north on Madison avenue, was making a right turn onto Second street.

Wintering Ration

Purchasers of steer calves can probably secure the cheapest gains with a silage wintering ration for the first 120 to 150 days of feeding. Calves weighing 400 to 500 pounds can be fed economically on corn silage adequately supplemented with protein, minerals and vitamin A.

Fined for Shooting Gun

Esther Hearn, 404 Weaver street, Venice, was fined $50 plus costs Friday in magistrate's court on a charge of discharging firearms in the city. The charge was filed Sept. 26 by Venice police.

Trains Block Crossing

A New York Central Railroad train crew was ticketed for blocking the Niedringhaus avenue crossing in excess of 10 minutes at 4:15 p.m. Thursday and on Friday morning.

Greater Returns Per Acre

From corn silage. In addition, Corn Belt feeders may be able to complete more successfully with large feedlot operators.

MADE. G. C. GLASS CO., 18th EDISON.

Too Many Dogbite Cases

An increase in dogbite cases in Granite City has resulted this week in a pickup order for all dogs running at large without muzzles starting on Friday.

City Humane Officer Donald Krause

said charges will be placed against the owners. He said between 10 and 15 cases of dogbite have been reported this month. "People seem to turn their dogs loose to run in the mornings about the time children are on their way to school."

Under the city's dog licensing ordinance

, adopted March 3, 1958, any dog found running at large without a muzzle is to be impounded and the owner must pay a fee of 20 cents a day for the dog's keep and a penalty fee of $1 if the dog license is not paid. Annual license fees for dogs are $1 for a male dog and $2 for a female.

Dog owners violating the city ordinance

will be subject to a fine of $10 to $50.

Driver Arrested

Virgil W. Ladd, 2557 Washington avenue, was arrested at 11:30 p.m. Thursday on a charge of driving with improper headlights at 2300 Madison avenue. He was summoned for a hearing by Nov. 30.
